EXPLORE EVERYWHERE

Sophistication. Simplicity. Versatility. If those were the pillars of your adventures, how much more fulfilling would they be? It's the question we ask every time we design a new caravan, and it's answered in the all-new XC16.

Over the last few years, our lives have all changed dramatically, haven't they? We've seen our priorities shift, and we know that the ability to enjoy the freedom of travel and the wonder of our great outdoors has never been more important. We've discovered we'd rather stare at a new horizon than a small screen. We want to explore new places and meet new people, and if we can keep the hassle to a minimum, camping in Australia just doesn't get any better.

Sophistication

If you plan on towing a trailer across the vast Australian continent, we know you need the confidence that it'll go everywhere you want it to. From the ground up, we engineered the XC16 to take everything in its stride.

Balancing weight and strength, the heavy-duty, hot-dipped, galvanised steel, off-road chassis and aluminium body with sandwich panel aluminium walls combine class-leading manufacturing techniques. The result is a lightweight structure that's strong enough to cope with outback corrugations, long, rough drives and the worst of Australia's bush tracks. As a pop-top caravan, your 4WD's fuel economy is maximised thanks to the XC16's lower towing profile.

The single-axle configuration helps perfectly balance the trailer on independent coil spring suspension with twin shock absorbers on each side. Each wheel can be adjusted for toe in or out to tune the towing performance perfectly. The 3500kg ALKO off-road ball hitch securely keeps the caravan connected to the car, giving it all the flexibility it needs to cope with ruts and rough driving.

The XC16's electrical sophistication is centred on a lithium-ready Renogy charging system. Versatile enough to suit your power needs, the base package features three Renogy 100Ah lithium batteries, which are maintained by 400W of monocrystalline solar panels on the roof. It's a comprehensive package, which is up to 70 per cent lighter than standard AGM batteries, will charge faster, last longer and are rated to last up to 5000 cycles. With Bluetooth connectivity to your phone and the charging system, perfect charge rates are maintained across the batteries on every cycle, and you'll always know how much power you have.

Simplicity

The farther from home we travel (maybe you're so far away, your home travels with you), the easier we want life to be. The mentality underpins the XC16, an off-road caravan that will effortlessly follow you wherever you take it.

Almost the moment you get to camp, this cleverly designed camper is ready to relax in. Pop-top by design, the roof lifts and lowers on electric struts that, with the push of a button, take all the effort out of set up and pack down. And never fear a lack of power prevents you from popping the top; a simple, easily accessible manual override is in place just in case it's needed. Everything else is ready to go.

The XC16's internal kitchen has everything you need to indulge in the best camping fare. The Dometic three-burner gas stove and stainless steel sink are fitted with fold-down lids so you can expand your preparation space when needed. A 12V range hood with LED lighting keeps the air fresh as you cook, and if you need a quick snack or to reheat leftovers, an under-bench microwave will get it sorted. With 160L of freshwater capacity across two tanks, there's little chance you'll run out. The high-flow 12V pump and gas-electric water heater means you don't leave any comfort behind.

Keeping food fresh and organised is just as easy. The upright 80-litre, 12V fridge can store enough fresh food for even the longest jaunts away from civilisation, while the extensive array of cupboards, compartments and lockers around the kitchen means there's always room for life's little luxuries. Not to mention the BBQ slide at the front.

We know you'd probably prefer to eat outside amongst nature, but if the weather's not playing nicely, you can eat at the comfort of the internal dinette table and lounge, warmed or cooled by the underbed, reverse cycle air conditioner.

At night, you'll fall asleep atop a queen-sized innerspring bed that you don't have to unfold or set up. Reading lights on each side and device-charging ports on each side create a space you can relax in and ensure your everyday charging routines aren't disrupted, even if you're in the middle of nowhere. We want to make sure your phone has always got enough charge so you don't miss a photo opportunity or important notification.

And never fear that you'll have to really rough it - the XC16 has its own private ensuite that's fitted with a hot shower, exhaust fan and Thetford cassette toilet. Paired with the 80L grey water tank, you can camp without a trace everywhere you go.

Versatility

Because we know that no two camping trips look the same, we've designed every aspect of the XC16 to enhance your travels, anywhere they take you.

Outdoor living is at the forefront of this, and the external kitchen gives you the flexibility to enjoy the freedom of Australia's best campsites. Slide out the sink and preparation area under the awning, connect your favourite barbecue and enjoy meals in nature. Store a second fridge in the built-in compartment and slide that'll suit most 80 to 90L chest fridges on the market. Roll out the awning, and you've got an expansive space to entertain or relax.

And no matter how far you travel, you'll never run out of room for everything you need. Outside, the XC16 has large storage boxes for gas bottles and extra jerry cans on the drawbar. A large storage compartment on the driver's side is perfect for extra canvas and other large items. Inside, there's extensive cabinetry so you can keep all your possessions safe, secure and organised.

And, of course, we can work with you to customise certain aspects of the caravan to suit your needs. As well as upgrades to the electrical system, the XC16 can be fitted with optional extras that'll get you further off-road for much longer.

That is, after all, the adventure we're all craving. We want a way to comfortably escape on simple, life-changing trips shared with the people we love. The Blue Tongue XC16 is the perfect vehicle to make that happen. Let us help you get on (or off) the road.

ABOUT BLUE TONGUE CAMPERS

Blue Tongue Campers was established over a decade ago in the leafy southern Sydney. Always with an aim of providing Aussie travellers and families with high-quality but affordable camping products, the company has partnered with some of the industry's leading manufacturers and providers, from Australia and around the world, to build some of the most practical campers on the market.

At the helm is Karl Geddes who, after a career in the building industry, decided he much preferred accomodation under canvas, rather than bricks and mortar. He's a camper himself and has travelled extensively in his own camper trailers and caravans, not just to prove their worth, but to enjoy the best country in the world.

Blue Tongue currently has four other off-road, hybrid caravans in its range. Find out more at bluetonguecampers.com.au
